NEWTONVILLE, MASSACHUSETTS

To reflect those high school days which have become momentous in a lifetime of important moments is the goal of our Newtonian. But because it is you who must animate these shadows, we have drawn them as mere silhouettes. They will become alive only when your individual memories provide a soul for them in the years to come.

Honor Society

President Paul Lawrence Minear
Vice-President Michael Fox Kennedy
Secretary Sonja Elinor Fredrickson
Treasurer Krikor Nazar Der Hohannesian

Speakers
 Zorolow, Kennedy, Minear, O'Neil, Praise

A member of the National Honor Society is chosen for the following four qualities: scholarship, service, leadership, and character. The organization is composed of 5% of the junior class and 15% of the senior class. In April, when the new members are announced, many proud and happy faces are seen throughout the school. The ceremony in which the National Honor Society members receive their tiny gold pins, symbolic of the torch of learning, is truly inspiring and beautiful.

Legislature

"Why can't the senior girls wear white caps and gowns?" . . . "Mr. Chairman, I have a suggestion" . . . Such were the snatches of conversation which fell upon the ears of passersby at the opening of the bi-weekly meetings of the Legislature. This important branch of our school government argued the pros and cons of suggestions made by our representatives. They then rejected the proposals or sent them to the Executive Council for the deciding vote. Congratulations are in order to the Legislature for their essential part in making this year a successful one.

Music Club

If one remembers that music is perhaps the most universal love of mankind, he should not be surprised that the Music Club retains the largest membership in the school. The club sponsors the appearances of many nationally and internationally known artists and organizes student concerts in order to provide an opportunity for talented students to gain recognition. The Music Club has gained for itself a permanent place in the hearts of all who derive pleasure from music.

A Cappella Choir

This organization, destined to awaken N.H.S. to a finer appreciation of the miracles of melody, is a part of our school life. The members participate in such traditional performances as vespers and graduation. In both performances and rehearsals alike they become completely engrossed in the music. Memories of A Cappella will be foremost in the minds of many seniors.

High up in the eaves of Building One, where the atmosphere is creative, the art clubbers can be found happily working on some interesting project. Their monthly meetings, greatly varied, consist of sketching outdoors, interpreting music in paint, and participating in many other worthy activities. This ever-helpful service group, which makes many of the posters we see in the corridors, is always willing to lend a hand when artistic help is needed.

Radio Club

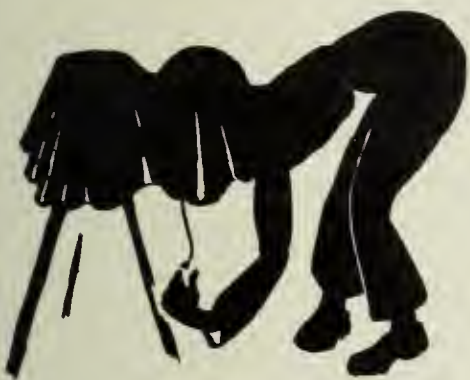

On the first Thursday of the month, room 23F is the scene of great activity. This year the members of the Radio Club devoted themselves to amateur radio activities. Some of the boys received their ham licenses and now operate their own radio stations. Among other trips they visited station WTAO-TV.

Camera Club

We all like to take pictures, and those of us who want to learn more about photography join the Camera Club. The club has been divided into two groups during the past few years so that both the novice and the more experienced can receive special instruction. During the season the complete process of picture making is discussed, with contests and speakers to add zest to the program.

All of those who were members of this year's French Club will heartily agree with us that many wonderful experiences were enjoyed by all. Lectures, French songs and games, theatre and museum trips, and a French style Christmas party were a few of the many and varied activities of this club. The enthusiasm and loyalty of its many members prove the French Club tres magnifique.

Stage Crew

STAGE WORKSHOP

It is difficult, if not impossible, to decide upon whom the success of an N.H.S. production depends. However, if it were not for the Stage Workshop, none of our shows would even be presented. This group of boys and girls constructs and arranges scenery, produces sound effects, manipulates the curtains, controls the lights, and sees that these jobs are properly executed during the show. Let us bring this group from behind the scenes into the footlights for a well-deserved round of applause.

Serious Business

Many of the members found the literary discussions which took place during the monthly meetings of the English Club a valuable supplement to classroom work. The major project of this organization was the preparation and distribution of their publication, A Child's History of Newton. Members also attended a panel discussion on Shakespeare's Hamlet and a theater party.

Future Teachers

As is implied by the name of this organization, its members are interested in becoming future teachers. They studied methods and means of school teaching in neighboring elementary schools as well as in teacher's colleges. During the course of the year moving pictures and lectures concerning the teaching profession were presented to the club members. Through these opportunities they were able to increase their prospects for success in their chosen careers.

Library Club

Libraries can be gloomy places—the very thought of some of them drives away all ambition for research work or reading. Not so with our N.H.S. library. The bright displays and posters attract the least scholastically-minded of us. The excellent condition of the books completely dispels fear of being at the climax of a whodunnit and finding that the last five pages are missing. The library assistants deserve much praise.

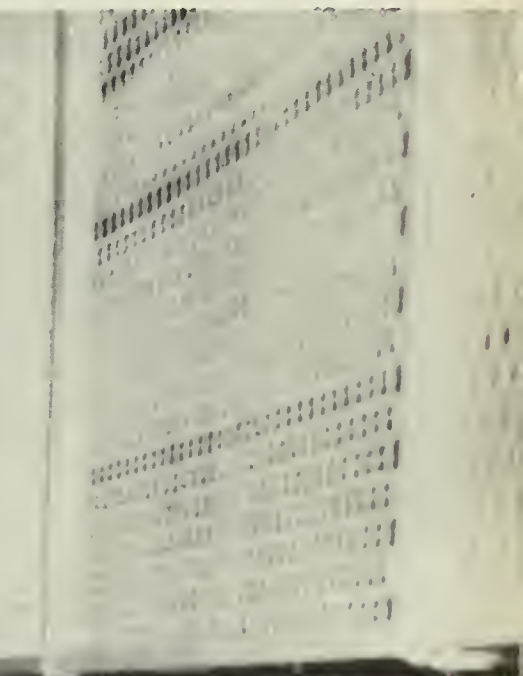

PHOTOGRAPHIC ESSAY

The emptiness of a building devoid of people produces a sensation of vast loneliness; still the structure has meaning, for in it remain the remembrances and traces of former activity.

Thus do the walls of the school itself reflect the faces and the deeds of the many people who have given a soul to the inanimate wood and stone.

Football Banquet

The class of 1954 was lucky enough to see what was probably the best team ever to represent N.H.S. on the gridiron. Bud Hawkes, in his first year as head football coach at Newton, sparked his first team to the Class A co-championship as it went undefeated and untied through the entire season. With the great pass-catch combination of Destefano and Kahlenbeck, the tricky running of Ercole Iafrate, and the hard hitting line of Captain Jim Wiper, Roy Ferguson, Bob Cedergren, Myron Kasok, and Paul Fitzgerald providing the nucleus of the champion team, Newton furnished excitement in all its games by rolling over its early opponents. The season was then climaxed by thrilling, last-minute victories over traditional rivals Waltham and Brookline. All concerned were proud of this year's men clad in orange and black.

THE FOOTBALL BANQUET

The lavish praise heaped upon this year's football team reached its peak when Newton saw fit to pay tribute to Wiper and Company by holding a testimonial dinner at the Totem Pole. Thanks must go to all the residents of the city, for it was indeed a community project.

BOYS' HOCKEY

Sparked by fast, hard shooting forwards like Hays, DeStefano, and Dow, and backed up by a strong defense of Wiper and Fitzgerald, with McLellan in the goal, Newton had one of its most outstanding hockey teams in years. The Orange and Black were strong contenders for the G.B.I. League championship right up until the last game of the playoffs, but just missed by tying a strong Belmont team. The season was climaxed when Dow and DeStefano, both high scorers, were picked for the G.B.I. all star team. Coach J. C. Hall and the entire N.H.S. student body have much to be proud of in this year's fighting team.

Indoor Track

Despite a lack of depth, this year's team, led by Captain Norm Kattwinkel, Ed Lefevre, Ken McAdams, Craig Harkins, and John Angier, came up with impressive victories in all its meets, with the exception of an early season loss to champion Rindge. The team also placed a strong second in the Metropolitan League. The boys were picked as strong contenders through the entire season and never failed to make themselves felt in competition. Coaches Boyle, Gallagher, and Geist look forward to another great season next year.

Umph

As in the past, Newton came up with another powerful outdoor track team and proved able defenders of the State Championship. Newton's attack was spear-headed by the consistently good running of Co-Captains Ed Lefevre and Ken McAdams plus that of Norm Kattwinkel and Craig Harkins. As is often the case, the field events contributed much to the team's success, due largely to the remarkable efforts of Lou Kahlenback.

Coach Poskitt had before him the difficult task of building a strong team to represent Newton in tennis in 1954. The only returning letter man from last year's championship team was Malcolm Hill, who relied on last year's strong J.V. material. Always a power in tennis, Newton took honors again this year.

Field Hockey

During the early fall, the hockey team seemed almost a part of the field. Every day after school the members could be seen, running in pursuit of the ball while sounds of laughter and clacking hockey sticks filled the air. At the games the laughter seemed more tense, but not the players. A great deal of credit is due such a fine team founded on good sportsmanship, friendship, and school spirit.

Our tennis team will tell you that tennis is indeed quite a sport. It takes practice, perseverance, cooperation, and, most of all, sportsmanship. Possessing these qualities, in addition to abounding enthusiasm and vitality, the N.H.S. girls' tennis team was no easy match for its opponents.

This year's softball team was one of which N.H.S. could certainly be proud. Spurred on by school spirit and a love for the game, our players were always ready for action. Unity and cooperation are the qualities of a successful team, Newton High School's softball team.

AdviserMrs. Turner

To the girls who provided the spark of this year's basketball team we give a rousing cheer. Their high scores were the result of long hours of practice, but victory showed that their work was not in vain. Win or lose, they gained invaluable practice in good sportsmanship, teamwork, and fair play.

Senior Committees

Much of the credit for what we feel has been a tremendously successful senior year belongs to the various class committees: the senior night, senior play, and senior prom committees, which organized those memorable evenings; the executive committee, which was the guiding force in our class government; and the social room committee, which made sure that 324 was available every morning at exactly 8:10. We thank the members of these committees for their fine work.
